DRESS CODE: CVPA Media Lab

Primarily we dress quite casual. Clothing should be neat and clean. What you wear when not on duty is your business. The following applies to the dress code while you are on duty.

Clothing and hats with offensive or vulgar images/words are not allowed. No shirts from strip clubs or any shirts that denigrate any sex (male or female), sexual preference, race, religion, or ethnic background.

No doo-rags. No gang insignia, no gang colors.

Hoods must be worn down and not up, covering your head. I prefer no hats or caps be worn but if you must, caps and hats must be face forward and not backwards and not sideways.

You are free to style and color your hair in any manner you desire.

Tattoos and ear, nose, eyebrow piercing/studs are more than ok, come as you are! No need to cover tattoos or remove studs, rings, and the like.

Sneakers, boots and shoes must be tied so they do not flop around or hit/skid across the floor while you walk.

Shorts and skirts should be long enough so that rear ends and undies are not exposed, especially when bending over.

ALL underwear is to be UNDER your clothes. No exposed bras (even if they are the same color as your top), boxers, briefs, g-strings. Pant waists must be secure and at waist level so they are not falling down or appear about to fall down.

No jeggings or tights in lieu of pants
No tube tops.
No plunging necklines.
No pajamas, ever. Only Hugh Hefner is allowed to wear PJs to work.
No headphones or ear buds, even if only in one ear.

Pants and shirts should meet.
No exposed belly buttons or bare midriffs.

Sporting team regalia and clothing are allowed.

For the Zombies vs. Humans: no nerf guns and/or ammo belts may be worn so set your weapons aside during your shift. No packing heat at work.